“I am really enjoying GodSense. I read it in quietude and when I got to the weeks about letting go, when I was challenged and 'broken' by the words, I was weeping and very lonely, but your words did not leave me there. The Lord came to sit down beside me . . . After the weeping came the realization that duty and suffering are the gift of God and it is my time to encounter both.” —Anonymous

“Your call to fully trust came unlike any other I have heard . . .” —Mike

" I am gaining so much for my daily walk with GodSense. Last Wednesday, the realtors were going to be here to show the house at 9:30 a.m. and I had much to accomplish before they arrived. I was up early, but the thought came to me that I really didn't have time to spend doing the devotional. But I wasn't comfortable not doing it. Because I am learning to trust God, I acted on a thought that came to me which was to ask God to allow me to see him work in my life through this situation. I committed to first spend time with him in the study for the day and I asked him to make a time warp to enable me to do what needed to be done in my home. It was wonderful! Even while I flew around the house, I was still in contact with the Lord. Ideas came to me to shorten jobs . . . I had just finished the last thing I needed to do when the doorbell rang. The thought immediately came to me, 'You did it, God! You let me see you work! Thank you, thank you, thank you!'” —Barbara
